

GP SEMINAR: Managing sinusitis & common nasal disorders DIAGNOSIS, MANAGEMENT & DILEMMAS

RACGP Activity No. 284161 - 2020-22 Triennium
ACRRM ID: 23937

Thursday 12 August 2021
7.00-8.30pm Webinar
Registration via Zoom

Nasal disorders including acute and chronic sinusitis, rhinitis, and headache are common reasons for presentation to the GP. The speakers will aim to address the common nasal disorders, first line treatments and investigations relevant to the GP. Diagnostic dilemmas such as the sinus headache and how to interpret common findings on CT scans will also be addressed. The speakers will also discuss medical and surgical management approaches, when to refer and the post-surgical management of the sinus patient via a series of case studies and examples.

PRESENTERS

Dr Martin Forer,
MB BCh, FRACS

Dr Forer commenced private practice in 1986. He is head of Department, ENT at the Royal North Shore Hospital as well as a member of the regional training committee in NSW for ENT.

Dr Forer has a special interest in rhinology and paediatric ENT. Dr Forer has been a regional and international invited speaker on functional endoscopic sinus surgery.

Dr Fiona Ting,
MBBS (Hons 1) BSc (Medicine)
MClinEpid, FRACS (OHNS)

Dr Ting completed surgical training in Otolaryngology Head and Neck Surgery in NSW and was admitted to RACS as a fellow in 2017. Following this, Fiona undertook further training in rhinology at Guy's and St Thomas' Hospitals in London, UK. She consults at Lindfield and Bella Vista and has admitting rights at Northern Beaches Hospital, the Mater Hospital and Norwest Hospital.

