Dr Ujwala Parashar

MBBS, FRANZCOG

Obstetrician & Gynaecologist

Dr Ujwala Parashar is a specialist Gynaecologist and Obstetrician in Sydney with over 10 years' experience as a medical practitioner. She combines an exceptional level of expertise in her chosen fields with a natural compassion and understanding of her patients' needs.

"My aim is to provide the best possible holistic care for women during the stages of pre-pregnancy, pregnancy and child birth as well as all levels of gynaecological management."

Dr Parashar studied medicine in Bulgaria and then moved to Australia to pursue her specialist training in Obstetrics and Gynaecology at Royal North Shore Hospital. As part of her specialist training she has worked in some of the most prestigious hospitals in Sydney. Most recently, she completed a year at Westmead Hospital as Gynaecology Fellow. Previously she successfully completed the Allan Ferrier Memorial Fellowship at North Shore Private Hospital and the Mater Hospital.

During her Fellowship years, she had the opportunity of working in an extremely busy hospital setting managing complex obstetric patients and helping women with incontinence and prolapse issues.

Dr Parashar has currently completed two research projects in urogynaecology and continues to participate in medical student teaching which helps her to stay at the forefront of the latest evidence-based practice in Obstetrics and Gynaecology.

Dr Parashar was born in India. With both her parents being doctors, since a young age she wanted to pursue a career in medicine. She moved to Australia with her husband and followed her dream of providing best | possible care to women and their families. She has two wonderful daughters, Tiya and Arya who continue to inspire her to help parents and their families.
